

What is a University-Model School®?

As a University-Model School® (UMS) we assist parents in the work of training and educating their children.

A University-Model School® is a unique educational model in which two proven elements of educational success are combined. The classroom instruction of a teacher and the home mentoring of a parent are combined into a single, unified college simulated program.

Students are taught in the classroom by qualified teachers for two or three days per week while parents remain central in the character formation and education of their child by working with them on the alternating days.

The National Association of University-Model Schools (NAUMS) was organized to help network and offer resources to other UMS schools throughout the United States. For further information visit the NAUMS website at: www.naums.net.

Our Philosophy of Education

At Veritas Academy we believe education is a partnership between parents and teachers.

We believe children benefit from family life and parental involvement.

We believe the Bible gives the parent the authority and responsibility for raising their children to be disciples of Christ.

We believe children develop character through their God given role as students as they endeavor to honor God through academic diligence.

Veritas Academy provides a challenging Christian education while giving opportunity for parent involvement and family centered learning by scheduling classes two or three days a week.
